Museum Notes.

The museum exhibit which is at present attracting most attention is that of goldenrods. Fifteen species have been shown. All have been gathered within two miles of the museum. It is interesting to see the variety in the different kinds, some having very large and prominent leaves, while the leaves of other species are insignificant. According to the labels, some goldenrods grow almost exclusively in woods, some in swamps, while others are found in fields and waste places. The exhibit of asters is smaller than that of goldenrods, and includes both blue and white flowers.

These flowers were shown at the Museum during the week ending Sept. 1. Rabbit's-foot clover, stiff gentian, fruit of ovate-leaved violet, sweet fern, Roman wormwood, hound's tongue, New England aster, gray or field goldenrod, late goldenrod, blue-stemmed goldenrod, tall hairy goldenrod, purple bergamot, groundnut, fruit of white hancberry, white snake-root, nodding bur-marigold, northern willow-herb, Japanese knotweed, pale corydalis, blunt-lobed wood-sia, bog goldenrod, swamp goldenrod, cut leaved goldenrod, hairy goldenrod.

These flowers have been shown the past week. Pale leaved wood sunflower, common blue wood aster, Braun's holly fern, Virginia ground cherry, oak-fern, Gronovius' dodder or love vine, beggar ticks or stick tight, great bur or burdock, long-leaved aster.

The First Day of Fair.

The program for the first day of Caledonia County Fair promises many amusements for that day. The first event of the day will be a ball game between St. Johnsbury and Newport. The battery for Newport will be "Dumpty" Howard and Searies, while for St. Johnsbury the old favorites, Patch and Higgins, will do the same work.

The first event on the program in the afternoon will be a grand parade of all exhibition stock. There will be five races in the afternoon, besides the balloon ascension by Prof. C. C. Bonnette. The races consist of a hitching up contest, potato race, farmers' race, trot or pace, one hundred yards dash and a Doctor's Automobile race.

During the entire afternoon there will be music by the St. Johnsbury band and special vaudeville attractions on the stage in front of the grandstand arranged especially for the children.

The public schools will close on Tuesday for one day only to allow all children to participate in the fun of the day. All children under 14 will be admitted free that day.

Seventy Club Meeting.

Seven members of the Seventy Club, with invited guests, visited Mrs. Arza West at her home, 12 Tremont street, last Wednesday, the occasion of her birthday. After greetings and the usual exercises the subject of special providences was discussed, and many interesting experiences were related. A pleasant time was spent in the arbor and garden, and all present spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

Five Great Attractions.

On Friday evening of this week Lincoln J. Carter's production "The Heart of Chicago" will be given at Howe Opera House. This play has many thrilling scenes and is full of interest.

"As You Like It," a treat for the lovers of Shakespeare, will be presented on Saturday evening of this week. Ernest Shipman, manager of the New York Theatre Building, has arranged a limited tour of 31 night performances, and a large number of theatre-goers here have contributed to insure this town's being upon the visiting list. The advance sale of seats will open for subscribers only Thursday at 8 a. m., at Gordon's drug store. The regular sale opens Friday morning.

On Monday evening Mildred Holland, who has spent the summer in study in Russia, will appear at Howe Opera House in her fine impersonation of Angela di Savelli in the romantic drama, "The Lily and the Prince." She appears in a new play each season and always proves an especial favorite with the theatre-going public, with her exceeding grace of manner. "The Lily and the Prince" tells an interesting story of the days of Lucrezia Borgia, with the scenes laid in the land of far off Italy, and is one of the most elaborate productions of romantic drama ever staged.

The Colonial Moving Picture Company will give an entertainment on next Tuesday evening. These people have reached a high degree of perfection in the movable picture art and a great variety of scenes will be shown.

The celebrated rural play "Way Down East," is to be given on next Wednesday evening. This is an always popular play and will prove a great attraction for one of the evenings of Fair week.

At Sea Girl.

The Vermont National Guard rifle team of which Lieut. William A. Ide and Serg. S. H. Hastings of Company D are members has been at Sea Girl, N. J., taking part in the different shooting competitions the past week. Through the team has not won any prizes as yet for shooting they have made some excellent scores. This is the first year the team has had a chance to practice shooting to any degree and with the experience of this year the team hopes to do a great deal better shooting next year.

Fish and Game League Banquet.

The midsummer meeting of the Vermont Fish and Game League was held on historic ground last Friday when about 400 members of the League met at Fort Frederic after a delightful sail of two hours from Burlington in the Chateaugay. Dinner was served in a big tent by Boston caterers and it was one of the best dinners the League has ever held.

Before the postprandial exercises opened, President Fish of Vergennes spoke of some amendments to the laws that ought to be made to preserve the fish in Lake Champlain and the shooting of the deer. He read a letter of regret from ex-President Cleveland, who had been invited as the special guest of the League. He then said there was only one other living ex-president and read a letter from John W. Titcomb, the former efficient president of the League now on his way to the Argentine Republic. He then introduced P. M. Medon, the Rutland lawyer, who made an eloquent and very witty toastmaster.

The speakers of the occasion were Hon. M. F. Barnes of Addison, Consul-General John C. Foster of Ottawa, Congressman Capron of Rhode Island, Mr. Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme court, Gen. O. O. Howard of Burlington. Brief greetings were then given by Congressmen Foster and Haskins and Senator Proctor. The address of Mr. Justice Brewer was one of the finest ever given before the League, and at its close every man present rose to his feet and cheered and waved his hat or handkerchief.

The return to Burlington was made in the early evening and at the Queen City the newspaper men were the guests of Editor Hays of the Essex Record at the great street fair which was then in progress. Those attending from this vicinity included the editors of the CALEDONIAN, Republican, Lyndon Union and Hardwick Gazette, P. P. Hazen, Joseph Fairbanks, E. N. Carter, Fred Gilman, Representative Graves of Waterford and Hon. Charles J. Bell of Walcott.

Organ Recital.

A most enjoyable organ recital was given by Miss Luella Merrill at the North church Thursday evening. Meeting of Woman's Club.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club Monday afternoon, two new members were admitted, Mrs. A. B. French and Miss Delia I. Griffin. As the club now possesses considerable property it was voted that the chairman of the social committee, Mrs. R. B. Eastman, should be custodian of it. The following delegates were elected to the Federation meeting, which is to be held here October 7 and 8: Mrs. Rebecca Fairbanks, Mrs. T. C. Fletcher, Mrs. W. P. Stafford, Mrs. C. P. Carpenter, Mrs. J. M. Cady, Alternates, Mrs. C. H. Merrill, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. James Ritchie, Mrs. C. H. Dempsey, Mrs. G. F. Cheney. Balch, Mrs. James Ritchie, Mrs. W. C. Tyler, and the program for the meetings will appear later.

An interesting subject that was considered at the board meeting was two prizes of $10 each that have been offered by the Kiwanis club of Burlington, for best specimens of basketry and rug making, for the purpose of promoting an interest in the Arts and Crafts movement, and to encourage native talent. All articles submitted for competition will be shown at the Third Annual Arts and Crafts Exhibition, of the Kiwanis Club, to be held November 17 to 20. Each competitor must be a resident of Vermont; the design must be original and artistic, and the owner has to assume all risk and expense of transportation. Further information can be had by addressing Mrs. J. E. Taggart, No. 42 Prospect street, Burlington.

Mrs. Helen D. Ross presided as chairman of the literature committee, and Miss Margaret B. Merrill gave a very interesting paper on "Two Gentlemen of Verona." This was followed by scenes from Shakespeare's plays, the following ladies taking the parts: Misses Caroline S. Woodruff, Eva L. Wilde, Sadie Cameron, Marion Fairbanks, Margaret B. Merrill and Mrs. Cora B. Kellogg. The parts were well taken and the costumes were very elaborate.

Base Ball Victory.

St. Johnsbury won the rubber game on Saturday by a close score by superior fielding. Both Thompson and Sutor pitched well, but the former received the better support. The largest crowd of the season was present. Searies did the best hitting for the home team. C. B. Webster made a good catch in center field and Dutton played a great game at first. Swasey did some good batting for the visitors and contributed some good fielding on third. Peck and Lancot at first and short respectively also played their positions very creditably.—Burlington Monitor.

After Many Years' Suffering

From Dyspepsia, Indigestion, General Run-down System, Mrs. Mary E. Gronow was permanently cured with BLOODINE.

Diseases of the Stomach or other organs of digestion will prevent the proper digestion and assimilation of the food. Thus the strength and value of it is lost, and the patient loses flesh. The blood also becomes impure, the nerves weak, and the bowels constipated.

To cure Stomach Diseases you cannot find a better medicine than BLOODINE. During its many years of experience it has never failed in cases of Nausea, Belching, Flatulence, Headache, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation, or General Debility. It is, therefore, deserving of a trial. You will be thankful for the advice.

Mrs. Mary E. Gronow of Natick, Mass., says that she suffered for years with Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and General Debility until she could not eat any solid food, and had no ambition to work until she was advised to try BLOODINE. After using three bottles she can eat anything and do a good day's work without feeling all tired out. We guarantee BLOODINE. Large bottles, 50c, or in Tablet form, 50c per box.
